

Mirtill Fegyveres Social Pedagogy 2nd class

The atmosphere in the class was exceptionally good, the teacher was approachable, kind and understanding towards us students. For me, it was interesting to gain a sight into the social pedagogy education, its history and perspectives in another country. The classes were interactive, and the teacher was interested in the students' opinions. I also liked how he made an effort to make the lessons engaging, my personal favorite was the example illustrated through a tug-of-war activity.

It felt great that communication wasn't difficult, we understood each other as best as we could and enjoyed our conversations. If I have a chance, I would definitely take the teachers course again.

Thank you so much for everything
